RE- FLECTING GOD

12/12/11 - God, The Creator

RG AUDIO 121211Genesis 1:1-13

In the beginning, there was nothing. And from the overwhelming darkness, God created . . . everything (Gen. 1:1).

If we would take a closer look at the world around us, we would stand in awe at the beauty of a waterfall or a golden sunset. This world is so utterly amazing that words alone cannot do it justice. Birds seem to defy gravity. Deer dance gracefully in the meadows. Lions roar majestically.

Yet, even surrounded by such wonders, it is human nature to complain. Sadly, it seems like Christians complain more than most people. We can get bogged down worrying about everything that is wrong. In contrast, again and again and again, God says what he has made is "good" (Gen. 1:4, 10, 12, 18, 21, 25, 31). As Christians, we can live knowing that God only creates things that are amazing, including us.
