RE- FLECTING GOD

11/21/13 - Looking for a Savior

RG AUDIO 112113

Matthew 25:1-13

If we look, we will see God at work all around us. The tough part is making sure God is what we are looking for. There are so many things that fight for our attention. Deadlines to meet, schedules to keep, responsibilities, and commitments are a part of our lives. The question we need to ask ourselves is, "Do these things make up my whole life?" Just like we prepare ourselves to go on a trip, to start a new school year, or to have company over we must, daily, prepare our hearts to allow Jesus to shape us. What good is it for Jesus to return if we aren't ready?

In the midst of what we are doing each and every day we need to be looking for how God is moving. Can you see God in the life of a child that is growing? Can you see God in the midst of your ordinary tasks? Can you find God's fingerprint on your life, day after day? The more we look, the more we are changed. The more we are changed, the more ready we will be for His return.
