RE- FLECTING GOD

11/19/15 - Shadow of His Wings

RG AUDIO 111915

Psalm 91:1-16

"Someone must have sense enough and religion enough to cut off the chain of hate and evil, and this can only be done through love" (Martin Luther King, Jr.).

The psalmist, David, certain of God's love for him, took refuge in the Lord's angelic protection. How could he be so sure when King Saul's army was stalking him daily? He lived a life of worship. As we commune with God, we also can be confident of His care.

A missionary in Asia was stalked by dangerous men. He trusted God to make a way out of a difficult situation and God did. It is the privilege of the believer to be sheltered by God, abiding in Him. We are secure in Him as He protects us from danger and disease, like a baby bird under the wings of its mother.

Regardless of the destruction of thousands near us, we are safe under God's wings. The sprinkling of blood over the doorposts saved the firstborn of Israel. We are secure in Christ.
