John 2:1-10

Jesus attended a wedding at Cana with his family and disciples. Some fun-loving among us like to point out that his ministry began at a party! Others matter-of-factly state that his ministry took place in the midst of the obligations we all endure. Vicki and her husband were married the day after their college graduation so that family and friends would be able to be at both events. They have a record of their attendance because their photographer positioned himself at the reception line and caught all of them. I have wondered how having Jesus attend their wedding might have been remembered in that young couple's story. His first miracle performed there, at the request of his mother, was surely memorable for all who were privy to the secret of the best wine being served last. The sign that hinted of who Jesus really was must have been recalled with joy when the young couple discovered his true identity. The whole thing might not have happened at all except for the words of Mary to the servants, "Do whatever he tells you." This is great advice for us.
