Lamentations 3:19-26

Stefanie and her husband have been co-pastors for several years. They've lived in a variety of locations. One particular assignment took them to a more tropical place than we've ever lived.

Because that assignment had such a different climate, they had to get used to life being lived a bit differently. One thing they didn't mind was not having to wear a heavy coat. Now that they live in a place covered in ice and snow, they have to pull out my coat again. Each winter Stefanie's husband asks if she wants a new coat. She doesn't. The one she has is fine. It may be old, but it works and is in good shape.

As a follower of Christ, I'm so happy that God's love and compassion is not like my winter coat. God's love is new each and every day! It's not that God's love will only last a day before it needs to be recharged. God loves us so much that He showers us with new love every day!

I can't imagine the lavishness of having a brand-new coat every single day. Just try to imagine God's love for you.
