Hebrews 10:19-25

When Jesus said, "It is finished," the path to a relationship with God the Father had been forever cleared and prepared for all people to believe and accept Him (John 19:30). Many times, we believers stray from those words, "It is finished" and think, "How can I be more acceptable to God?" We fill our calendars with good, wholesome church and family activities. We encourage others and sing worship songs. We volunteer to help others. We give to the church and the community. We do all the things we think make us more acceptable.

Romans 10 reminds us that it is faith in Jesus that saves us. Nothing we do can make us acceptable enough for God. Only by believing in Christ, repenting of our sinful ways, and following Jesus can we have a right relationship with God. Jesus finished His work on the cross all those years ago. Today, remember it is faith that saves you. Your actions reveal the faith you have to a world that is desperate to know Jesus.
