Exodus 4:21-31

God has equipped you to do more than you probably realize. We see an example of this in the earliest part of Exodus 4:21-31. Specifically, let's focus for a moment on the word "all" in verse 21. I AM doesn't over-equip Moses. Seems like God is saying, "Lay it all out there. Show off my power. Not to bring glory to yourself, but to call attention to who I am."

You might have a specific way you find yourself ministering. You might have found a lane and just want to stay in it. That's great. But don't become close-minded about the ways God has equipped and is equipping you. Maybe you're in a rut, or you're not actively ministering right now because you can't seem to find that which fits your skill set.

An introspective look at a life long-given to Jesus will likely reveal a much longer skill set than perhaps you've considered in a while. Maybe you should make a list of the ways you've been equipped. Then look at your church's needs. Consider "all." Then go.
