Revelation 5:6-14

While attending an international conference, we discovered 14 nations in one elevator. How amazing! We stood outside for a few minutes introducing ourselves. Only the gospel of Jesus Christ could bring such a unique representation of people together. Later these nations carried in their respective flags in one united celebration. What a colorful event! What an honor to the King of Kings. This diverse group of people and cultures were united by our shared faith and mission.

John's vision is of heaven. It is the throne room. A sensitive moment, when he sees the Lamb looking as if it had been slain, standing before him. He who came to earth to give his life as an offering is now being praised and celebrated. A time of exultation by a multitude of angels. A tremendous praise of large proportion.
