

Learning Anew

Description

RG AUDIO 020712 Psalm 94:1-11

Some lessons need to be continually learned again and again. Wisdom demands that we focus upon the One who gives wisdom. Since God is the source of wisdom, we must continually remind ourselves to turn to God when we are without the wisdom we need.

Warnings like "thin ice," "detour ahead," and "falling rock zone" are all important, but perhaps "low on wisdom" should flash on our mind's eye when that is our circumstance. The psalmist reminds us of God's awareness of our needs when he asks the following questions, "Does he who implanted the ear not hear? Does he who formed the eye not see?" (Ps. 94:9).

God knows what we need, even before we ask for his help and guidance, but he wants us to be wise enough to call on him. He desires worship, fellowship and connection with him on a regular basis. Because God uses us as his instruments, we also want to be ready to help others to see their need to turn to him.
