

The Truth About You

Description

Psalm 8

The dominant note in your biography is not that you flunked chemistry, crashed the new Ford, won the talent contest, or that you walk with a limp. Nor is it your distinguishing feature that you were married and divorced before you were old enough to vote, or that you make the best chili known to humankind.

The dominant truths in your biography are:

1. You were created in the image of God. Theologians tell us that the divine image expresses itself in our ability to reason, make moral decisions, transcend self, and to love. God who created the universe with his fingertips (Ps. 8:3) took time to pour his own image into you. In fact, he created you only a little less than divine (8:5).
2. You are the object of divine love. Christmas and Calvary prove that. Max Lucado was right when he said, “If God had a refrigerator, your picture would be on it.” (A Gentle Thunder).

As one member of one species that infests the crust of one of the smaller planets, we marvel that God cares about each one of us—but he does!

And that’s the truth about you.
