

Who Do You Please?

Description

RG AUDIO 122112

2 Corinthians 4:1-12

Did you know that a human eye can distinguish 500 different shades of gray, that sailors once thought that wearing a gold earring improved their eyesight, or that your eyes blink over 10 million times a year? Did you know that the “puff of air” shot into your eye during a glaucoma test seems like the longest and most torturous second known to mankind? None of us look forward to it, but in an effort to please our eye doctor and find out if our eyes are healthy, we sit there and take it like a mouse. Which poses a question: Do we want to please God as much as we want to please our ophthalmologist?

Most of us know what it means to please others, and most of us know what it means to please ourselves, but what does it mean to please God? Hebrews 11:6 gives us a clue, “without faith it is impossible to please God.”

God expects us to have faith in his promises and act accordingly. Surely we can display a little more faith in the Sovereign and Supreme Sustainer of all.

Author: Donald A. Schultheis

Date Created

2012/12/21