

Watch The Walk

Galatians 5:13-26

The flight was delayed. I had nothing to do in the airport but sit and wait. I found a seat in a row of chairs facing down a long concourse. I watched as hundreds of people walked by. Airline personal in crisp uniforms and business people in neat dress moved expertly through the crowds. Families with carts piled high with luggage and children in tow headed on vacation. An electric cart would whir through carrying those who needed assistance to meet their flights. Some people appeared confused. They would walk a few feet and study their itinerary or stop to study the monitors showing arrivals and departures.

Suddenly a voice nearby said, "There they are." A young child's voice cried, "Grandma! Grandpa!" An elderly couple stopped and dropped their bags, kneeling down to receive their grandchildren into their arms. Soon the smiling and chatting family passed by headed toward the exit.

Our walk reveals a lot about us. When we walk by the Spirit we move ahead with "love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control."
