Hosea 3:1-5

The religious leaders of the day were not doing their job. Because they were failing miserably in their responsibilities Hosea is charged to call them back. The spiritual life and well-being of others is impacted positively or negatively by our faithfulness, or lack thereof, to God.

Chances are there are people in our lives whose only knowledge of God is from listening to us and watching our way of living. If they are "lacking knowledge" of God, perhaps that is the reason why God has placed them in our life. Are we doing our job or are we making the same mistakes as the priests to whom Hosea prophesied?

God wants to do more with our lives if we will just let Him. He has given us wisdom, insight, and knowledge of His saving grace. The mercy that we were blessed to receive, thanks to people who introduced us to Jesus, is a wisdom that we must now teach to others. May we live your lives in a way that people will not be "destroyed" from their lack of knowledge about Jesus, but come to a saving "knowledge" of Him as their Lord.
