RE- FLECTING GOD

12/31/14 - A Mission to Serve

RG AUDIO 123114

Hebrews 1:1-14

A friend of mine recently went on a Caribbean vacation with his wife. During their getaway they stayed at an all-inclusive resort. When they returned from their vacation I expected to hear raving reviews of the beaches?the crystal clear water and the tasty cuisine. I was blown away by their inability to stop talking about the incredible service they received from the resort staff. Wherever they went someone was waiting to serve them. Around every corner there was someone with a warm towel or a cool drink. Everywhere my friends turned someone was waiting to serve their every need.

As children of God this is the reality that surrounds us in the spiritual realms. Angels are waiting to serve our heavenly Father's will. He understands our deepest and truest needs. Whether our need be encouragement, protection or provision, His angels surrounding us have access to the endless resources of God. They exist to connect His resources to our needs. This truth speaks hope to every need we experience.
