

God Won't Forget You

2 Peter 2:1-11

One of the many reasons we have for hope as Christians is that God loves justice. Those who reject His offer of salvation will be punished, and the faithful will be blessed: If not in this life, then certainly in the next.

We shouldn't let the injustice in the world cause us to lose hope. No one ever truly "gets away with it." We need to remember that God doesn't abandon us in this fallen world. If we simply trust Him He will bring us through any circumstance we may encounter.

For instance, Noah was a righteous man living in a world so corrupt and detestable that God destroyed it, but He saved Noah and his family. Also, Lot was a God-fearing man living in a wicked city called Sodom. God rained fire on that city, but He spared Lot and his family.

The apostle Peter encourages us, "So you see, the Lord knows how to rescue godly people from their trials, even while keeping the wicked under punishment until the day of final judgment" (2 Peter 2:9). God is a God of righteous justice, and He won't forget you in your time of need.
