Exodus 5:22—6:8

What do you do when an item you have purchased doesn't operate as promised? You contact the manufacturer—the creator—of the item to ask for help or instructions.

Moses' first attempt to convince Pharaoh to let God's people go seemed to backfire. Rather than granting Moses' request, Pharaoh ordered the Israelites to gather their own straw to building bricks. Not only was Pharaoh angered by Moses, but the Israelites were not too happy, either.

Moses returned to the Creator to report the apparent failure, but God took Moses back through the history of His covenant with the Israelites. He assured Moses that He “heard the groaning of the Israelites” . . . and remembered His covenant to them. God renewed His promise to bring His children out of Egypt and into their promised home.

Are you doubting whether you are on the right track? When you are facing difficult times, don't hesitate to go to the Creator. He hears your cries and will remind you of His promises and provision.
