

A God of Victory

Description

Psalm 44:1-8

When families get together, it's common to share stories of the past. Some of these stories might be hilarious situations that a family laughs at for years, some might be full of rich ancestral history. Whatever the content, these stories have shaped and formed the family.

The psalmist describes a piece of the story of God that had been passed down for generations: God is victorious. The psalmist leans on the truth of the past. God is with the people of God, fighting for them and making a way for them! This is good news for the people of God who are reading this story from years' past.

This same God who was victorious so long ago is still victorious today. Just as the psalmist says, it is not our own weapons, strength, or violence that saves us from our enemies; it is only God.

When you see victory in your life today or in the lives of those around you, praise the name of God! Join with the psalmist in telling this story of victory to the generations that come after us!
