Galatians 3:1-14

Is it possible to live in the right way, for the right reasons in our world today? Living a righteous life means living rightly. How does one live rightly in a way that pleases God? Can we find favor in his eyes? How do we say and do the right things in the right way so that it brings a smile to his face? How do we respond rightly when interactions with others leave us uncomfortable and uncertain? Is there a way to live beyond a narrow enslavement to demanding rules and harsh regulations that leave us cold and unloving?

Abraham found favor because he believed God. He abandoned reliance upon his knowledge, understanding, and performance to depend completely upon the promises of God. Christ Jesus redeemed us so that we, too, by faith can experience Abraham's blessing. Walk today in friendship with Jesus.
