RE- FLECTING GOD

03/29/15 - Hear Him Speak

RG AUDIO 032915

Psalm 20, 1 Corinthians 15:53-58

Are you experiencing adversity today? God is near to protect you. Listen closely. Hear Him. He is sending help your way. He respects and supports you more than you will ever know. Feel His Spirit near you. He sees what you are going through. He understands how much you have given up while remaining true to Him and yourself. You have been benevolent to the needs of others and He is aware of your sacrifice. He wants to give you the desire of your heart, but sometimes your desires are not best for you. Trust Him. He wants to make your plans succeed, but perhaps they are outside His will. Can you understand? Open your spiritual mind.

How can a loving God allow unlovely situations to enter the life of His only child? He loves you that much, as if you are His only child. He wants to say "yes" to your requests, but so often they are out of balance with your needs. Now, you know the Lord loves you so much that He sent His only begotten Son to die for you. He died for your sin. Will you value yourself enough to receive the gift He has already given?
