Hebrews 11:32-40

Plans in our life can be long or short term. A short-term plan might be what is being planned for dinner. A long-term plan can be a career change, or a goal that takes some time to accomplish.

The writer of Hebrews gives us a list of those who have set an example for us in living out faith. These heroes of the faith encourage us. We may draw from their example and be inspired to continue to carry on in faith. All those who have placed their faith in God and His promises will receive the fulfillment of the promise. That promise was fulfilled in Jesus. Our redemption has been completed in Jesus. The promise of the Messiah has come.

After the death of Lazarus, Martha was telling Jesus that someday her brother would live again. Jesus said to Martha, "I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in me will live, even though they die; and whoever lives by believing in me will never die. Do you believe this?" (John 11:25-26).

If you believe this, you are following God's greatest plan. Stick to the plan; it will be worth it.
